Certifications and Symbols

used on FLP Products and Their Meaning

FLP is proud to be listed on the PETA website verifying that we do not conduct or commission any animal tests on ingredients, formulations, or finished products and that we pledge not to do so in the future.

www.peta.org

"Kosher" is a Hebrew word that literally means "fit" or "proper." When used in relation to food products, "Kosher" means that the product meets the dietary requirements of Jewish law. The principles governing what is Kosher and what is not, are rooted in the Written Torah and the Oral Torah. These laws have been observed by Jews for over 3,000 years.

Halal is an Arabic word meaning "lawful" or "permitted." Knowing a product is halal-certified means you can purchase the product with the assurance it does not contain anything that is "haram" or "doubtful". The IFANCA staff reviews the product's ingredients as well as its preparation, processing, hygiene and sanitation procedures. This is a valuable assurance that the product is an authentic IFANCA halal-certified product, meeting the highest quality of halal certification available anywhere in the world.

www.IFANCA.org

IASC (International Aloe Science Council) Product Certification ensures that FLP's finished aloe vera products contain a high standard of purity and quality of aloe vera. Products are tested using analytical methods to assure the quality and purity of aloe vera.
